Lamesa Trucker Dies From Burns In Semi-Trailer Crash On US 36

FATAL TRUCK FIRE — Gayland Bullock, 24, Lamesa truckdriver, died in this flaming wreckage early Tuesday morning after the truck overturned on US 36. Officials said the man was pinned under the cab of the vehicle and died of burns when gasoline ignited a load of wheat. Bullock was alone in the truck when it overturned.

Vehicle Burns After Overturn West Of Cameron

A Lamesa, Texas, truckdriver died of burns in an early morning truck crash Tuesday west of Cameron on SH 36.

Gayland Bullock, 24, suffered fatal burns while trapped under the frame of his truck.

The semi-trailer truck he was driving was a total loss after it overturned and burned about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Two pumpers from the Cameron Fire Department raced to the scene after being notified by an unidentified traveling salesman. The salesman drove into Cameron after stopping at the burning wreck minutes before.

Burst Into Flames

Fire department officials said the truck, loaded with wheat, apparently burst into flames when it overturned. Gasoline from the tanks spilled onto the wheat and caused the truck to burn, officials said.

Firemen fought the fire about an hour before the flames were extinguished.

Two wreckers from Cameron literally pulled the truck cab apart in an effort to free Bullock. He was trapped in the blazing wreck for about an hour.

Witnesses said he died before the pinning wreckage could be removed.

Eddie Kohutek, Cameron, told officials that he saw the truck go off the road and overturn. He was driving behind Bullock's vehicle.

Firemen fought to keep flames away from the man while rescue workers attempted to free him.

Pumpers Alternate

Pumper trucks ran back and forth into Cameron to carry water to the scene of the blaze.

The load of wheat, estimated at about 20 tons, and the truck were total losses. Firemen were called to the scene Tuesday afternoon to put out another fire that started again on the truck tires.

Officials said that Bullock was enroute from Lamesa to Houston when the accident occured.

No one knew why Bullock went off the road.

Bullock's body was taken to Marek-Burns Funeral Home and then shipped to Lamesa.

Trucks, buses, bicycles, cars, people and many other objects have collided with trains, but never in our experience have we heard of the U. S. mail being the iron horse's victim.

Not until last week.

Since June 6, we learned that a mail pouch containing a letter to The Herald and other mail was run over by a Santa Fe flyer. In a succinct statement of the facts, postal authorities said: "Both pouch and mail were cut to shreds."

We have evidence bearing witness to that fact and showing the efficiency of U. S. postal service. The shredded letter, bearing what appears to be the imprint of an engine wheel, was delivered Tuesday.

Most interesting thing to us was that the letter was delivered. It is a compliment to a vital public service.

99 — 99 — 99

MORE ON MAIL -- A note from a contributor points out that the "sack" mode of attire has spread to yet another use.

But this time the sack is real! and is covering the one-way sign on Lee Street on the east side of Ben Milam School. City officials recently approved opening the street to two-way traffic during the summer school vacation.

Says our informant: "Drive out and see 'Miss One-Way Street' dressed in a sack. She is at the southeast corner of Ben Milam School. — A Neighbor"

COMMENT: If our fall fashion forecast is correct, we will see more "sacks" gracing style-conscious Cameron women and fewer stopping one-way traffic. Style experts say the "sack" is here to stay.

99 — 99 — 99

Still another contributor penning his name, "Eben Stebbin," comes forth with commentary on the problems of parking and car repair. It goes like this:

"The old timer remembers when you could get a car repaired about as cheaply as you can park one now."

Old "Eben" offers further comment on economics which, in our opinion, is treading on dangerous grounds for divorce.

"MODERN ECONOMICS to a married man is known as the law of demand and supply."

99 — 99 — 99

The two anecdotes show the universal interest in that elusive medium of exchange.....money. In fact, people are so concerned with the stuff that they use most of their time spending it and the rest of the time thinking of names for it.

How many names for money can you think of? We can start with "greenbacks," "lettuce," "cash," "change," "wad," "roll," "wampum," "scratch," and a new one to us, "gidus."

You might name a dozen others. I'd rather put some in my mattress.

School Ballot To Consider 2-District Annexation

Voters in an enlarged Cameron school district will consider assumption of bonded indebtedness Monday following annexation of Ad Hall and Marlow dependent districts.

The poll will open at 8 p.m. Monday at Yoe Gymnasium and close at 7, school officials said.

The election follows annexation of the $401,755-valuation districts by county school board action June 2.

School trustees from both districts asked that they be annexed in the meeting. Cameron school board authorities accepted their annexation with provisions requested by the two districts.

Board Okays Options

The city board okayed Marlow's request to keep the school lunchroom, equipment and building and Ad Hall's request that a one-teacher elementary class be continued.

The election will actually allow the annexed districts to assume bonded indebtedness already incurred by the Cameron district.

Tax rates for the old districts will go to $1.50 per $100 valuation. Ad Hall's was $1 and Marlow s was 75 cents, officials said.

The annexation proceedings will increase the Cameron district's valuation by $401,755 with Ad Hall's valuation at $276,300 and Marlow's at $125,435.

School officials noted that the last annexation to the Cameron district was in 1957 when Yarrellton came into the district. A total of 14 districts have been annexed since 1951.

Both 18.2 Miles

Both Ad Hall and Marlow school districts were 18.2 miles in size.

Cameron's district has about $8½ million taxable value with the recent annexation.

Trustees from Marlow and Ad Hall were among the group of school fathers that met with the Cameron board last month to discuss ways to alleviate the cost of teaching out-of-district students in the Cameron system.

Mystery Farm Is Scarborough Home

The F. H. Scarborough farm east of Cameron on US 77 was the mystery farm of the week.

A talk with Cattleman Scarborough this week showed there was no mystery why he was producing quality cattle.

He said that he is constantly improving the 125-acre grazing farm with sodding in coast bermuda grass.

The farm was formerly a dairy farm years ago when it was operated by Joe Thompson and Willie Mees, Scarborough said. The Scarboroughs moved there about nine years ago.

Scarborough raises no crops on his US 77 farm, but does grow feed crops and general crops on another farm he owns in the Ad Hall community.

He is interested in good farming, Scarborough says. He carries out a creep feeding program and is careful about all cattle feeding planning.

Scarborough says his farm has no unusual history except that he and his neighbors in that area along Little River have to watch for spring floods, particularly in recent years.

"We have never lost any cattle," he says. "We get enough advance warning to get them out before the high water hits."

The Scarboroughs also raise some sheep on their bottomland farm. And he proudly points out he raises registered polled herefords.

Farm Bureau To Hold 1958 Queen Contest

Milam County Farm Bureau directors last week voted to sponsor a queen's contest July 17, giving recognition to the farm and ranch girls of Texas.

The contest will be open to any daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member who is single and between the ages of 16 and 22. Judging will be based on appearance, poise, and personality.

State To Survey Traffic Needs Of Roads In City

The state highway department this week requested city permission to take a traffic survey on all state and national roads in Cameron.

Mayor Bassel Wilson told The Herald that the state requested permission to remove temporarily roadway control signs so that a state traffic survey crew could analyze actual driving needs throughout the city.

Wilson said the city granted permission for the survey to get underway.

State Highway Engineer C. B. Thames made the request in a letter this week.

The latest action followed an agreement two weeks ago that the widening project on US 77-SH 36 would begin in mid-September after utility lines and poles were moved back.

City officials also agreed to a blanket maintenance agreement with the state to clear the way for the widening project and the traffic survey due in the next few weeks, Wilson said.

The survey will be from city limits to city limits on each state and national road maintained by the state highway department.

Recommendations for traffic control and speed zone signs will be made by the state following the survey. The state will replace all signs and provide any additional ones found necessary, Wilson said.

Bob Nelson Issues Absentee Warning

County Attorney Robert Nelson this week warned political candidates and the general public that he would investigate any complaints concerning violation of of state absentee balloting laws.

Nelson told The Herald that his warning was prompted by rumor that absentee ballot violations had occurred in the county in the past or might occur in future elections.

Next county and state election is the Democratic primary July 26.

"If any violations are noted," Nelson said, "investigation will be conducted and information will be presented for grand jury consideration."

The county attorney said that Texas election statutes provide two methods of voting by absentee ballot.

Two Ways To Vote

ONE—Going before the county clerk and voting in his presence at least 20 days prior to an election and not less than three days before an election.

TWO—Applying to the county clerk for absentee ballot voting when the voter is physically unable to go to the polls. The county clerk mails a ballot to any authorized absentee voter who completes the ballot and returns it by mail.

Nelson said that a person so totally disabled that he is unable to write may authorize a second person to mark his ballot in his presence. A witness to the ballot is required, Nelson said.

Signature Required

He added that a doctor's signature is required on any absentee ballot filed by a voter physically unable to go to the polls.

Nelson said that a person who believes he will not be in his voting precinct on the day of the election can vote absentee by going before the county clerk and voting then.

Flea Hoppers Infest County Cotton Fields

By J. D. Moore, County Agent

All cotton fields inspected this week were infested with cotton flea hoppers. This insect starts its cycle early in the spring in weeds, particularly "Horse mint." As the season progresses, weeds become tough as they mature. The adult flea hoppers leave the weeds and migrate to the succulent cotton plants.

The flea hopper feed in the terminal buds of the cotton plant and destroy the tiny squares. Early poison applications should be stopped by June 10 to 15 in order for beneficial insects to build up in sufficient number to combat the cotton boll worm. Due to late cotton, farmers have a problem.

Fields should be checked and insecticides should not be applied after mid-June unless harmful insects are present.

Rose Gardens

It is time to change rose fungicides for disease control. Sulfur compounds used in cool weather can cause burns in hot weather. For black spot control, change to captan, zineb or maneb, and for powdery mildew control to Karathane or Mildex. Applications should be made each week, especially during rainy weather.

To avoid wetting the foliage when watering the lawn or roses, is of special value in preventing mildew. Spraying will give better control than dusting. A spreader sticker should be used with the spray for best results.

Black spot is characterized by large, roundish, black spots with irregular or frayed margins. The spots may occur on either or both surfaces of the leaves, and frequently develop unnoticed on the soft twigs and branches, and also on the leaf stems. When severly infected, the leaves may turn yellow and drop off. This weakens the plants and makes them more susceptible to dieback, drouth and winter injury. It also results in smaller flowers that are weak in color and fragrance.

Scarborough received a framed picture of his farm and Mrs. McClaren received 50 pounds of feed from Feeders Supply. Check the Mystery Farm this week and see if you recognize it.

Farm Safety Week

Haying and early harvests increase the chances for farm accidents. While Farm Safety Week will not be observed until July, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council reminds that the safe family is one that observes farm safety week 52 weeks out of the year.

Mrs. E. H. Geistmas is reported to be improving satisfactorily following major surgery at Scott and White hospital in Temple where she is a patient. She may receive visitors.

Ideal Birds Lead Random Sample Tests In Texas, Missouri

In the latest report from the Texas Random Sample Test the Ideal Hatchery H3W entries are in first, second and fourth places on the 401st day of the test, which just has 49 more days to go until completion.

The Ideal H3W hens show an average of 72 cents per bird more profit, over chick and feed cost, than the other 27 entries in the test.

The Ideal H3W entry in the Missouri Random Sample Test is in first place out of 51 entries on the 422th day of the test, with a net profit of $3.15, some 87 cents more profit than the other birds entered in the test are showing.

Leo Fuchs, owner of the Ideal Hatchery & Poultry Farm in Cameron, originator of the bird, stated that the championship chicken is the result of years of study and intricate testing.

Oats, Hay Baling Going Well Here

County oat harvest and hay baling made good progress during the week and one wheat yield was reported around 28 bushels per acre.

County Agent J. D. Moore also reported that corn and grain sorghum grew well. Some maize is heading out while early corn is in silk and tassel stage, he said.

Moore said that rapidly growing feed crops depleted top soil. Corn under irrigation needs water this week. All crops needed a general rain this week, he continued.

Conditions were ideal for cotton and haymaking. Cotton flea hopper damage has hit some older cotton which needs poison this week.

Moore indicated that livestock conditions continued to be good. Cattle are continuing to contribute more to farm economy than any farm enterprise, he noted.

Cantaloupes made rapid growth with the crop due to start moving in about 15 days. Tomatoes and watermelons also look good.

TRADE IN CAMERON

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth...then bought one!

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car . . . even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth . . . and choice of models besides . . . hardtops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without nagging adjustments and big repairs . . . a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Any wonder I quit waiting? Take my tip . . . get your Plymouth bargain right now.

Today's best buy...tomorrow's best trade... Plymouth

More About Building . . .

We can again write about construction progress in Cameron.

The congregation of the First Methodist Church kept the Cameron progress ball rolling with announcement of a $98,000 building program for an educational building, parsonage and remodeled church basement.

Then came news of confirmed plans for the long-awaited widening project, including $12,000 of city money, on US 77-SH 36 from the viaduct to the intersection of Fourth & Travis Sts.

The project will be started sometime in September, the first definite starting date announced since the idea was conceived years ago.

These projects added to the $87,750 armory means building is aboom in Cameron. And it will be a welcome sight to see the construction begin.

It would seem that places for groups to meet are fast becoming available and streets to get them there are on the way too. Our water system is in operation and the sewage program is nearing completion. State approved water cannot be far behind.

Next will come continually widening sewer arteries and improvements of secondary roadways in the city. One might call these necessary predictions. Inevitably then industry will follow.

Our chief problem is not to fear pressing for more and more improvements. Once they begin to develop, additional ones are less difficult to obtain. And we realize with each additional civic improvement how much it adds to civic welfare and how much further we can go on the momentum of achievement.

Sage Says Senatoring Like Farming
You Spend More Than You Take In

Dear editar:

According to an article I read yesterday afternoon while I was sitting under a tree out here on my farm -- I could have said while I was resting under a tree but I have never felt that a man had to be tired before he could sit down in the shade of a tree in the summer time and I sat down under this tree because I wanted to -- the high cost of campaigning for office has become a Serious problem and the two major political parties are trying to do something about it.

As I understand it, it sometimes costs more to run for an office than the job pays. One U. S. Senator said it costs between $150,000 and $200,000 to run for that office, while the job only pays $135,000 for a full six-year term.

You mean to say Senatoring is no better job than farming? I can understand how a farmer would spend more making a crop than he gets, it happens all the time, but I always figured a Senator was smarter.

However, what interests me about the thing is that the two parties are going to do something about it. A drive is now underway to get individuals all over the country to contribute more money. Doesn't make any difference which party you give it to, give it to the one of your choice, but give something, and the money will be taken and distributed around to cut down on the high cost of campaigning. This way a candidate will be obligated to a lot of people instead of a few.

I think we ought to get behind this program. It'll keep politicians interested in their jobs. Anybody can see if a man has to pay more for his job than his job pays, it won't be long until he gives it up and tries something else, and how could the United States face the world if it came up with half the seats in the U. S. Senate unfilled?

It's one thing for a farmer to give up and move to town, but the United States would be the laughing stock of the world if half its Senators and two-thirds its Congressmen threw in the towel because, economically speaking, they were marginal politicians, no more able to justify their existence than marginal farmers.

Personally, I think we need the U. S. Senate and Congress too and people who say if the job doesn't pay they ought to give it up and try something else are taking a mighty short-sighted view of the matter. If you'll tell me where I'm supposed to send my money to keep the Senate filled, I'll think it over.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Hospital Board Sets Tight - Purse Policy

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Texas Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools is working toward getting a gold star when an economy-minded legislature hits Austin next year.

Launching a new tight-purse policy, the Board voted to prohibit superintendents of individual state institutions from (1) using leftover funds without Board permission and (2) making any expenditure of more than $1,000 without Board approval.

Sometimes individual hospitals develop surplus funds resulting from smaller patient loads than had been expected, or other reduced costs. New rule puts an end to no-strings-attached spending of such surpluses. These lapsed funds could amount to as much as one million dollars, according to Board Member W. G. Kirklin of Odessa.

Chill Wind

Hospital Board's move pinpoint shortage is expected to pinch hardest -- administration of state's services.

A revenue shortage in excess of $100,000,000 by next year has been freely predicted by various authorities for months.

A survey of the platforms of legislative candidates over the state shows a fairly consistent approach by those making statements on the revenue dilemma. General pattern of promises to voters:

(1) Continuation or, often, increase in state obligations for education, welfare payments, road building, soil and water conservation, etc.

(2) Opposition to certain new taxes or sometimes new taxes in general.

(3) Cuts in state spending by "elimination of waste, duplication and needless services by state agencies."

Actual achievement or near-achievement of this fiscal magic will put a real squeeze on every state department.

Not Me

Likelihood that someone may draw the "black bean" of new state taxes has group after group telling the State Tax Study Commission how overburdened they are already.

A spokesman for the Texas Motor Bus Association told the Commission texes on that industry are heavy and discriminatory. He said many smaller lines were having to go out of business.

A representative of retired people asked tax relief for people living on pensions.

"We are no longer concerned with saving the goose that lays the golden eggs. Our goose was cooked when we lost ability to work and earn," said W. B. Wood of Port Arthur.

On behalf of the Texas Association for Tax Relief for Texans over 65, Wood asked for tax exemption for the first $3,000 of property owned by oldsters. He also opposed a sales tax.

Discrimination is charged because the law applies to wholesalers but not to producers who sell only the output of their own flocks. Suit also objects to the provision that makes violations a criminal offense and the requirement that eggs kept under refrigeration for 30 days or more be labeled "cold storage eggs."

Republicrat

Texas Supreme Court is considering the question of whether a former Democratic candidate is entitled to a position on the Republican primary ballot.

Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor leader and onetime Democratic candidate for the Legislature attempted to file against Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger. He called himself a "Stevenson Republican," an apparent parody of Eisenhower Democrats.

A lower court ruled that Cantrell, as a member of one party, was not entitled to seek nomination in another party's primary. Cantrell appealed to the high court.

Since there is usually only one nominee for each office, Republican primaries do not ordinarily attract a heavy vote. It is widely assumed that many Republicans cross party lines to vote in Democratic primaries where most state offices are decided.

Cantrell's candidacy is generally interpreted as a move to force Republicans to stay in their own primary.

CAMERON, TEXAS' HERALD, JUNE 12, 1958

SW Conference Sports . . .

Tom Murray's Column

NOW THAT the big fish have been caught in the annual SWC football recruiting derby, who landed the biggest haul?

Jess Claiborne Neely, Rice's patriarch, likes to say you'll find out when the current recruits are seniors - not before.

Jess' Owls and Jim Myers' Aggies probably did the most thorough restocking of each position. But Baylor, Texas and T.C.U. grabbed the big name Texas backs.

Baylor, surviving winter internal strife, acquired two of the state's hotter halfback prospects - Gladewater's Tommy Minter, 185 and 9.7 gaited, and Bishop's David Bull, 180.

T.C.U. claimed Pasadena's fabulous Bert Coan, 6-3, 185, and a 9.5 sprinter.

Darrell Royal and his U of T recruiters were active, latching four all-state half-backs, attempting to chock an Orange deficiency.

Texas signed 4A Champ Highland Park's Jackie Collins, 185; Amarillo's David Russell, 165; Austin s Bob Nunis, 190, and Corpus Ray's Bart Shirley, 175.

The Aggies clutched a pair of top halfbacks themselves. Brenham's Calvin Janner, 185, and Levelland's Jesse McGuire, 175, were prized targets.

FOLKS who know say keep an eye on three other Texas halfback acquisitions - Baytown's Steve McWilliams, Pasadena's Jim Snow and Andrews' Bob Jackson..... Aggie Fullback Gordon Le Boeuf took unto himself a bride two weeks ago at Port Neches..... Silsbee Football Aide Ray McGallion played football with several professional stars. He banged around with Bill Johnson, 10 year 49er center, at Tyler J.C. in 1947. North Texas teammates Ray and Dean Renfro, Larry Strickland, Bill Bishop and Royce Womble are regulars with the Browns, Bears and Colts. It is ironic that Jasper's Max Alvis, a bat-wielding third baseman who led SWC hitters, should win a regional title for his team without lifting the bat. His Bases-loaded walk forced in the winning run in Texas' 32 sqeaker over Houston, sending the Orange back to Tucson..... Texas' success or failure at end this fall may be up to Angleton's giant junior Larry Stephens, 6-3, 230 .. Monte Lee, '67 starter and spring training star, was sweating final exam returns. ...Hillyer Ward, one of Anahuac's greats, will be a leading halfback candidate at Southwest Texas this fall..... Jerry Hennington, Livingston's highly sought quarterback of '56, has left Baylor for Sam Houston State.... Boone Jackson, Giddings twice championship coach, is the same fellow so successful at Hempstead.....Two of Rice's leading tackle prospects are Humble s Ford brothers, Shelbourne and Billy.

MR. and MRS. HENRY ISAAC LEE

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Theresa Marie Wohleb, Henry Lee

Baskets of white gladiolus decorated St. Monica's Catholic Church for the wedding of Miss Theresa Marie Wohleb and Henry Isaac Lee May 17 at 9 a.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Wohleb of Cameron. Mr. Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Lee of Killeen.

The Rev. George J. Duda performed the double ring ceremony. Traditional wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Frank Hanel, organist, and the St. Monica's choir.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white lace and nylon tulle over satin. The fitted bodice featured a Peter Pan style collar and long tapering sleeves.

Her finger-tip veil was caught by a crown of seed pearls and pearl orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of white carnations.

Bride's Attendants

Miss Catherine Absnaider, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Florence Ellen Lee and Doris Anita Lee, sisters of the groom, and Miss Ella Wohleb of Texas City, cousin of the bride.

The attendants floor-length dresses were identically fashioned in shades of pink, blue, green, and yellow brocaded taffeta. They featured boat-necklines, shirred sleeves, and full gathered skirts. They carried bouquets of carnations matching their dresses.

John A. Lee of Ft. Worth served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Daniel Hromcik, cousin of the bride, Cleave Wood from Temple, and Roy Wohleb, Jr., brother of the bride.

Ushers were Louis Absnaider, Jr. of Austin and Stanley Hromcik, Jr. of Fort Worth.

Parents Host Reception

The bride's parents were hosts at a reception in Simon-George Hall immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Louis Absnaider, Jr. of Austin served the cake, and Mrs. Theresa Robinson of Temple assisted at the punch service. Miss Lillie Hromcik of Austin was in charge of the bride's book.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue crepe dress with black and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a dusty rose dress. They both wore white carnation corsages.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride chose a gray dacron suit with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Yoe High School and is employed at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Lee is a graduate of Killeen High School and served in the US Army in 1951 and 1952. He is now employed by Santa Fe Railroad.

Miss Ann Rutledge Bradbury Weds Arthur Elliott In Garden Ceremony

Large baskets of white gladiolus formed a background for the candle-light garden wedding of Miss Ann Rutledge Bradbury and Mr. Arthur Beverly Elliott, Jr. Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wade Bradbury and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beverly Elliott of Victoria.

The Rev. J. E. Flinn, Episcopal rector from Hurst, Texas, performed the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was furnished by Miss Carol Conway of Bryan, cousin of the bride.

Escorted By Father

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal dress of silk bombozine and French chantilly lace. The fitted bodice of bombozine was cut in a point both front and back, and the edge finished in a band rolled cord. The scoop neckline was edged in the scallops of the lace, and the lace, scattered with seed pearls, formed an overlay through the top. The same pattern of lace shaped the short sleeves.

The full skirt of bombazine was shadowed at the hemline with a wide scalloped border of lace and the same lace pattern formed the chapel length train. She wore short white kid gloves.

Silk Illusion Veil

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a pearlized blossomed crown, and the edge of the blusher and veil were scalloped and hand rolled. Lace medalions were appliqued to the blusher.

She carried a cascade of gardenias.

Miss Jean Bradbury was maid of honor for her sister, and Mrs. Louis Holley of Abilene was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kate McLane and Miss Diane Clare of Haskell.

The bride's attendants were dressed identically in pink organdy over taffeta. The bodice was circled at the neck with a bertha collar extending over the shoulders to form a short sleeve. They wore short white kid gloves and carried cascades of calladium leaves. Circlets of English ivy formed the hats.

Groom's Attendants

Richard Jones of Galveston served as best man. Groomsmen were John C. Hollan of Fort Worth, Larry Lamberth, Jr. of San Antonio, and Michael Austin of Austin, and ushers were William Mueller and Lloyd Weber of Houston.

A pink and white cloth covered the cake and punch tables at the reception immediately following the ceremony. The cake table was centered with the bride's bouquet and lighted with hurricane lamps. Mrs. Harold Riley of Houston served the four tier cake which was decorated with pink roses and topped with silver bells. On the punch table caladium leaves surrounded the large silver punch bowl.

Houseparty Members

Miss Kay Camp furnished organ music during the reception, and Miss Jane Henderson attended the bride's book. Other members of the house party were Mrs. H. Clay Watson, Waco; Mrs. A. C. Strickland, McGregor; Miss Norinne Holder, Mrs. Drayton McLane, Mrs. Roy Law, Mrs. Gillis Graham, Mrs. W. O. Newton, Mrs. R. G. Grabein, and Mrs. J. C. Martin, all of Cameron; and Mrs. Robert Jenkins of Indianapolis, Ind.

The bride chose a moss green silk suit with black and white accessories for her traveling costume.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

CYNTHIA ANN PARKER

Symbol of Loyalty and Love of Liberty

When a Texas Cavalryman saw a blue-eyed girl of fourteen living contentedly as the adopted daughter of a Comanche Indian family, he knew the long-lost Cynthia Ann Parker had been found. Five years previously on May 19, 1836, she had been captured in a Comanche raid on Fort Parker, and taken away with the raiders. Attempts to buy her from her captors failed.

When she was next seen by a trading party on the Canadian River two years later, she was happily married to a Comanche chief, Peta Nocona, and refused to leave her foster-people. Two sons were born, Pecos and Quanah Parker, and later a daughter, Prairie Flower. At the battle of Pease River, in 1860, she and the little girl were captured and taken to Fort Cooper. There her identity was definitely established by an uncle, Isaac Parker, but Cynthia Ann wanted none of white civilization. She never became reconciled to separation from her Comanche people, and tried many times to escape and rejoin them. The story of her loyalty to the Indians with whom she lived so long has been told and retold in song, narrative and drama and will always be a colorful chapter of Texas history.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland.. "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Milam Grain Co. Ready Now With Improved Grain Storage

Constantly improved storage facilities await Milam County maize growers at 201 Cedar St., site of the old Batte Oil Mill opened last year by Milam Grain Co.

Officials of the year-old grain organization say that reconditioning is now underway to expand local storage facilities to 200 cars, about 80 cars beyond 1957 capacity.

Robert M. Clark, secretary-treasurer of the operation, says that reconditioning was completed June 1.

Other Improvements

Other improvements underway at Milam Grain Co. include the enlargement of present unloading facilities to double capacity. Present facilities handled about 75,000 pounds per hour but with the increased size about 150,000 pounds capacity will be available.

Also planned is installation of new unloading facilities that will unload about 200,000 pounds of maize an hour from waiting trucks.

"We believe this will provide ample unloading capacity to keep farmers from having to wait a long time in line," Clark says.

"We have not completed arrangements for additional storage facilities elsewhere, but plan to have such facilities lined up by harvest time," Clark continues.

Clark says the year-old grain operation will have the best 1958 storage market in the area when all improvements are made.

Company Officers

Officers of Milam Grain Co. are Perry Holder, president; C. O. Angell, vice-president and manager; Clark, secretary-treasurer; and H. L. Yager, member of the board of directors along with the other officers.

Milam Grain Co. handled a total of 185 carloads of maize in 1957 in the first year of operation, Clark points out. The organization bought 60 cars of maize and put the grain on the open market and stored about 125 cars.

"These improvements are a part of a continuing process of keeping up with requirements for service in the Milam County grain market," Clark concludes.

Rare Coin Collection Hobby For Newton

An article appeared in a recent issue of The Armored Sentinel published at Fort Hood about Walter O. Newton, Jr. and his coin collection.

Newton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Newton, Sr. of Cameron, and has been a Civil Service employee at Ft. Hood for 13 years. He is chief of the disbursing section of the finance and accounting office.

Mr. Newton has been collecting rare coins for the past four years. His collection includes one of the "pieces of eight" referred to in Robert Louis Stevenson's novel, Treasure Island.

The "piece of eight," according to the article, is Mr. Newton's oldest and largest coin, bearing the date 1796. It is a Spanish-American dollar, known as the Carolus dollar, carrying the effigy of King Charles IV who ruled Spain from 1788 to 1808.

Mr. Newton first became interested in collecting coins when he was helping a friend build a coin collection by keeping an eye open for rare or old pieces that passed through his cashier's cage.

Though most of Mr. Newton's coins are from the U.S., he also has pieces from 55 foreign nations, ranging from Afghanistan to Zanzibar.

The more than 1,000 pieces in the numismatist's collection are worth an average of a dollar per coin. He explains that some of his coins would cost as much as $30 to $40 to replace because of their limited supply. One is a 1916 dime minted in Denver. Another is what Newton refers to as a "mint-fluke," a 1937 Indian head and buffalo nickel on which the buffalo is missing his right front leg.

Other rare coins in his collection are a 1797 penny, an American three-cent piece which measures less than one-half inch in diameter and an American 20-cent piece.

Newton says his goal is collecting a complete set of each American coin series, and this is quite a task. For a complete set of the one cent piece alone, he would have to gather one penny from each year of three series of pennies dating back to 1796. So far he has a full set of Jefferson nickels through 1958, and a full series of Mercury head dimes.

Mr. Newton works at his hobby four to five hours a week and says he hopes to pass on his interest in collecting coins to his associates.

Fisherman Gets Chance To Land Gasper Gou On Man-Made Bait

By Vern Sanford

Once in a while someone catches a gasper gou on an artificial lure. Usually such catches are within the range of a pound or two.

But there are exceptions! For instance: A few days ago Billy Disch, Jr., of Austin and his wife were fishing for white bass on Lake Buchanan in Central Texas. They had a pretty good string of whites, taken while trolling and jigging.

Billy was manning the motor and their daughter was sitting in the middle of the boat. So the Mrs. just had to land the fish. After a 10-minute play she boated a big old gasper. It weighed 14 pounds after it was gutted! Some catch.

Recently a friend of mine spent a half-day fishing with Dave Hawk, maker of the famous Pico perch. Hawk has just published a book about bass fishing. The guy has some very definite ideas on the subject. Some of them you are inclined to argue about. However, when a man is good you've got to admit he may also be right.

Hawk takes very positive positions about certain things. For instance, he says that using a beaded chain snap swivel on a lure is like tying a log chain to it. Also he likes to fish with a black line. He thinks it is about the only thing that will catch a fish. As to rods, Hawk announces just as strongly against a rod longer than 5 feet. He says they are like buggy whips.

All this reminds us of the story about the mule trainer who was called in to " move" a balky mule. First thing he did was to pick up a 2x4 and give the mule a powerful whack on the head. He said the first thing you had to do was to get the mule's attention. He did. And it moved.

Well, after Hawk gets you a little riled up and you are paying full attention to what he says he gives some sound advice for catching bass.

For instance what he says about using a leader from 15 to 20 feet long makes a lot of sense. By using the long leader, when you get a fighting fish close to the boat the connection between line and leader already has been wound on the reel. If anything breaks it's the leader, not the knot. And that is less likely to happen.
